

Angelina Yuen-Tsang has been involved in the development of social work education in Hong Kong, the Chinese mainland and Asia for over forty years. She is deeply convinced that social work education has transformative power and is a catalyst for social change and development. In this lecture, Angelina will illustrate with examples drawn from experiences of our early pioneers as well as contemporary champions, in ways that they have transformed people, communities, the social work profession, and global agendas through social work education. She will also share her own experience in facilitating the development of social work education in the Chinese mainland and the transformative power that social work education had unleashed in the country...